

July 8,
1912.

My dear Mr. Hilles:

This is simply to enclose the letter from the President of June 15th, which had gone astray, and which was sent to me to Porto Rico.

As you will notice by the enclosed envelope, it was misdirected to Washington instead of Chicago.

Hoping that you have had a good needed rest, I beg to remain

Very sincerely yours,

Hon. Charles D. Hilles.
Secretary to the President.
Washington, D. C.
