Virginia,

My dear Todd,

Yesterday your interesting book about the Governors reached us here where we have been for several months. We came here from San Francisco to visit our eldest daughter, Elizabeth, now Mrs Taylor, who lives near this little city. But our stay has been indefinitely extended because Mrs. Hunt's health is so bad that she has been and is entirely unable to take the journey back to San Francisco.
We hope she will improve, although the prospect of travelling is, we fear, a long way off. Moving, long distances for old people is dangerous to health.

Your sketches of the Governors is interesting. I am sorry you did not

WILLIAM H. HUNT

make your history longer, so as to include The development of the Island during the last 45 years. If you ever revise the sketches, by all means elaborate more. You are well able to undertake such a work, using the ground you have covered ^{as an} historical outline of American occupation.

Thank you very much for sending me the volume and I value the inscription from you a faithful friend.

Every thing concerning the Island is of deep interest to me and always will be.

When you feel disposed let me hear from you, and let me ever be,

Faithfully your friend,
William H. Hunt.
