

rumoured at the time that

The General re
plosions at Indian Head and that at the time th one of their ships to this same kind of blac
cause of all these exp

General Mil
vestigated the explos
by Admiral Sampson, w
who wanted war with S

The General
letter, acknowledging
of his appreciation o
him, but that he coul
he would be in posses
to say anything about that was the reason o
understand how delicat
this subject, only ha pening twenty-five ye
if you should undertak
in the proper way, tha
the real truth of the
of time which has elap
ing of those bitter day

I am leaving
take with me the letter

Without any f